

THE ART OF GLAZING WORKSHOP

SATURDAY DECEMBER 5, 2026 9:00 TO 4:00 WORKSHOP FEE 115.00

In this seven-hour workshop, we will cover everything from application techniques, to testing and tracking results so you can recreate them consistently. Here are some of the topics we will cover and discuss:

How to modify your glazes

Glaze Composition

Slips, engobes and washes to increase your palate

Combining glazes to create new colors and effects

Measuring a glaze's Specific Gravity

Overview of glaze faults & how to resolve them

Almost all of the ideas and techniques will apply to Cone 10 as well as Cone 6 glazes. The workshop is definitely not technical and is designed to get people excited and positive about glazing. A major focus of the workshop is to demonstrate a wide variety of glaze techniques. This is a working session; the primary focus is hands-on work - applying some of the techniques learned in the workshop on your own pieces.

THE WORKSHOP WILL BE AT MARJON CERAMICS

ARTIST BIO: Mike Upp studied ceramics at Arizona State University. After graduation, he developed his first studio in an old tobacco barn in an artist community in the mountains of northern Tennessee. He was a dedicated student of the art form and produced studio pottery for a wide variety of markets for over 10 years. He exhibited and won a number of awards at all the major art shows in the Midwest and the Southeast. He has run numerous workshops on glazing techniques. He left the art world and joined corporate America for over 25 years, where he spent most of his career in software marketing. In 2012, he started the Earth and Fire Ceramic Design and has a primary focus on designing functional and decorative ceramic art for the kitchen and home, which they call "Art for Living."
